Help plan for the future!

Join the Gainesville-Hall Metropolitan Planning Organization (GHMPO) for the third community meeting in a series of 4 designed to identify transportation priorities in our rapidly growing region. The GHMPO is made up of local citizens, government staff, and elected officials.

The first meeting provided attendees with the opportunity to voice desires for the transportation network they encounter on a daily basis. The second meeting gave residents the opportunity to tell planners which needs are most important to them. Plan to attend this third meeting for a chance to see the preliminary list of projects and to hear how the community has helped shape this 2040 transportation plan.
